Date of Event

23rd February 2023

Theme of the Event

“Healthy Gums Healthy Body”

Summary of Programme

To commemorate the registration of the Indian Society of Periodontology under the state laws as a non-profit front organization formed in 1975 with the primary goal of promoting and enhancing the knowledge and awareness about Periodontology in India, this year 23rd February 2023 was celebrated as “NATIONAL PERIODONTIST DAY” across India.

Department of Periodontology & Implantology, Rural Dental College & Hospital, PIMS celebrated National Periodontist day with great zeal and enthusiasm. The event was conceptualized by Dr. Amit Mani, Professor & Head along with the other faculty members of the department. A series of events were planned to spread the message of “Healthy Gums, Healthy Body”, the theme of this year. To create awareness and make it fun for everyone we have organized the following activities: which included Tooth Art, E – Poster Making, Slogan Writing, and lastly Reel making completion where in all students took active participation with overwhelming response. Poster circulated to announce the celebration of “National Periodontist Day”
